with new clients

- Providing excellent service delivery to your portfolio of established relationships
- Advising decision makers from SMEs to global organisations to help them achieve their business objectives
- Working collaboratively with your team to reach team goals
- Handling the job process from beginning to end including short-listing, making expert recommendations and maintaining relationships

What you'll need to succeed

You may still be building on your skills and experience, but you know you are:

- Highly motivated and sales driven
- Passionate about helping people flourish and achieve their career goals
- Energized by connecting with new people and developing new relationships
- Driven towards achieving results in an environment full of healthy competition
- Inquisitive and curious, always wanting to know more about people and the world of work
- Confident to establish new relationships
- Ambitious to achieve results and progress your career
- Adaptable and agile, able to constantly seek new opportunities in the market

What you'll get in return

We grow our own talent and will invest heavily in your development. And if you don't yet have proven skills in recruitment we will help you to develop them through our training programme which includes:

- Formal classroom training
- Workshops delivered locally by specialists in their field
- Structured one-on-one coaching with your manager and team mates
- Comprehensive online learning so you can learn independently
- Tools and resources written by subject matter specialists to assist you to become a trusted advisor to your clients
- A new training programme at every stage of your career with Hays, through to management and leadership

As well as the comprehensive training, we also offer a range of rewards and benefits.

What you need to do now

Our people tell us that Hays is a great place to work, over 90% of our employees say that they are proud to work for Hays. You could have the opportunity to advance your career with the market leading agency and be proud of who you work for too.
